ONE OF THE BEST BATTLE-TESTED SUPPORT SYSTEMS TO HELP BUSINESS OWNERS SOAR WITH SUCCESS- COMING TO NW DENVER

Hundreds of small business owners in Colorado have discovered the secret of how having their “own” board of advisors, committed to help, counsel and encourage them can multiply their chances of success, even when they’re companies of one.

Many small business owners are floundering in today’s economy, but a support system is helping them succeed. Make-it-Fly® advisory boards are providing practical help, encouragement, needed resources and accountability. The company is announcing its’ first franchise in the Denver area—Make-it-Fly® NW Denver will be owned and managed by Sharon Gibson. Ms. Gibson will serve businesses in the NW Denver and Foothills area. For Make-it-Fly® has provided such a support system at a reasonable investment for businesses with 20 or less employees.

Make-it-Fly® began almost six years ago when Dave Block and wife Victoria Munro realized many businesses were experiencing frustrations such as: being overwhelmed, feeling isolated, wearing too many hats and many other challenges. Since the inception of Make-it-Fly® over 800 businesses have overcome these challenges through Make-it-Fly’s unique business development program.

Sharon Gibson’s Make-It-Fly franchise will serve the foothill communities including Evergreen, Golden, Conifer and , Morrison. Gibson will also serve NW Denver area, Broomfield, Westminster and Arvada. Gibson , brings a wealth of experiences to the Make-it-Fly® Advisory Boards process. Her experience in business and leadership spans over 25 years including successfully turning a near bankrupt business into a successful thriving business, in three short years. Ms. Gibson has a passion for people, businesses, leadership and community. She believes the strength of a community is in the success of the businesses within the community.

The founders of Make-it-Fly® say franchisees must be sales –marketing oriented, understand the plight of businesses and have a knack for relationship-building. Block and Munro want franchisees to mirror their core values of integrity and service to others. Ms. Gibson embodies all of these qualities.

Gibson’s first Make-it-Fly® Advisory Board 101 starts Tuesday March 17th . For more information, call Sharon Gibson at 303 816 1502 or visit her website at www.make-it-fly.com/sgibson
